Field trips offered

The ICE AGE FLOODS INSTITUTE invites our photographers to join them for a full day Field Trip on October 20. Gene Kiver and Dale Stradling, retired EWU geologist/geography professors will lead two busloads through giant current dunes along the Great Missoula Flood path, over loess islands, to Williams Plunge Pool, into a flood bar, viewing the maximum flood heights of the Great Missoula Flood at Dishman Hills, and ending at the Latah Creek sandbar (which is also an earthquake fault line).

Registration forms are available from SCC, SVCC, and P.S.A. Field Trip Chairs. Charges for non-members of IAFI, including bus transportation, lunch at Turnbull and refreshments is $40, 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM. Registration should be received by October 12.

P.S.A. Field Trip to Walla Walla, October 26-28, joint ventured with and led by the Blue Mountain Camera Club. The itinerary for Fall Festival of Feathers and Foliage is being finalized by our banana belt colleagues.

Call Viola Garrison, (509) 238-6530 now, or Otto Stevens (509) 327-8954 after October 1 for more information. Spokane Camera Club, Spokane Valley Camera Club, and guests are all welcome to join us.

CCCC slide competiton

Steve Shining is still collecting slides to be entered in this year's Columbia Council of Camera Clubs competition. He is asking for 5-10 slides from each slide maker in the club. These will be judged locally and the best ones will be entered in the competition. Be sure you do not submit any slides you are planning to use in Camera Club this year.

Interstate Fair results

The Spokane Camera Club has successfully sponsored another outstanding photo exhibit at the Spokane Interstate Fair for 2001. This year's fair saw the greatest number of prints and slides in recent years. We judged and displayed 227 prints and judged 125 slides. A great many of these photos were from members of this and the valley camera club and the list of winners show that our members are good photographers. The number of prints made a spectacular display that we hope all of you saw. The success of the exhibit was made possible by the many members who assisted in the judging, set up of the display, put on slide shows, and who acted as hosts during the fair. Thanks to all of you. Next year will be even better!

Digital Users Group program

The Digital Users Group's November 14th program will feature a PSA Recorded Lecture Series program on Digital Manipulation of Slide Images. Of course, the information will also pertain to film images because, once digitalized, an image editing program cannot tell if it started out as a slide or as a negative.

Invitational Slide Competition

The Northwest Council of Camera Clubs has invited the Spokane Camera club to participate in the Third Invitational Slide Competition. This is a chance for us to see how we score against other clubs around the US and the world.

We are to enter a total of ten slides. Slides need the maker's name and address on each with a mark in the lower left hand corner.

Those interested need to get your entries to Bill McKinney no later than October 19, 2001.
